A ground breaking programme for professional and entrepreneurial women

Expand your vision of what's possible for you - both personally and in business. Trust me, your empowerment will have a positive knock-on effect on those around you. Designed to enable women to make the Next BIG SHIFT, this programme will help you to realise your own potential and create more of the results you want, as well as eliminating the personal and professional obstacles that get in the way.

Cost: £130 incl VAT . Payment before the event

Stop. Hit the pause button and refocus... One of the hardest things to do for many women is take time for themselves. We all live busy lives filled with work, family and social commitments. Sometimes we are running so fast that we forget to stop and reflect on how we feel about ourselves personally and professionally. It's only through taking that time to check in with these important questions, that we can begin to become aware of what we want to change and start to cultivate a vision for ourselves that is compelling and energising.

"Inspirational! If you need help achieving your personal or professional goals, look no further - this one day could transform your life"

Sarah Marks, HR Business Partner, Farrow and Ball

Inspiring, thought provoking, energising and generally made a difference to my life. This is the only way I can describe the POW day that I attended. - Angela Piromalli,

Director, Rock Recruitment

This programme is for you if: you are a powerful and passionate woman at heart - yet there's something holding you back from being the biggest and best version of yourself!

I am an experienced transformational coach. I work with individuals, leaders and teams, helping them to build their levels of inner confidence, challenge the stories that hold them back and step into their dreams. I am delighted to be able to bring this passion and energy to the Power of Women events.
